Beehive 40 Pendant

The Beehive 40 Pendant by Marc de Groot has a powerful honeycomb shape. Many of the creations this manufacturer produces could be considered metal origami. However, the machining process the team employs to create these light fixtures give them much more muscle than their paper counterparts. This pendant with its facets that project light in varied directions is made of aluminum. Finish options include aluminum, brass, and powder-coated white. We offer the Beehive, which won a Netherlands' Design District award, in a number of sizes, the 40 large enough to make a statement in monumental volumes.
